Axel quickly picks a designated amount of fruit and immediately transfers to the wine press so that there is minimal color transfer from the blue-black Pinot Noir clusters. This dry wine with a slight color has an inviting nose of pomegranate, gooseberry and orange. Balanced with a trace of residual sugar.

Enjoy this wine with seafood or as a starter for dinner.

VINEYARD NOTES

- Winery started in 1608
- Axel is 5th generation winemaker
- You can see both Phalz and Rheingau from the top of the Rothenberg vineyard site. Clouds come over the mountain from Phalz but they are too high to give precipitation, they move to the Rheingau and it rains which results in Nahe having lower precipitation per year.
- The village has 200 hectares of vines and 15 wineries and Schweinhardt has the largest, 30 hectares.
- Bürgermeister is the name of the estate which means "mayor" and is dedicated to Axel's grandfather, Willi Schweinhardt, who was the mayor of the town of Langenlonsheim between 1946 till 1969
- 30 Hectares; 50% Riesling, 25% Grauburgunder (Pinot Gris) and Weissburgunder (Pinot Blanc) as well as Chardonnay. They just started planting Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot.

NAHE, GERMANY • AXEL SCHWEINHARDT, WINEMAKER

History of Nahe

- Nestled between the Mosel and Rhine valleys, the Nahe is named after the river that traverses the forested Hunsrück Hills as it gently flows toward Bingen on the Rhine. Striking rock formations, mineral deposits and gemstones attest to the remarkable geological diversity that also accounts for the Nahe's broad spectrum of wines.
- 30 Million years ago the area was an inland sea. Throughout the vineyards you will find shells and other fossils; making the wines unique from each vineyard site.
- Rothenberg: Soil type, volcanic red slate; resulting in racy Rieslings with pleasing mineral notes.
- Königsschild (means shield of a king): Soil type, shell stone; produces more fruity, less acidity wines.
- Löhrrer Berg: Soil type, smooth washed round rock from the sea, coarse gravel; produces wines with higher acidity with delicate fruit undertones
